EVELINE GAN

The 32-year-old homemaker found out about Jayden's food allergy the hard way when she fed him sweet peanut soup, which he could not breathe. It was such a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

He started crying, coughing, wheezing and his lips swelled immediately. He merely took a small sip of the soup and his lips swelled immediately. He started crying, coughing and wheezing. It was a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

Peanut allergies on the rise among kids

In Singapore — Funny, Mrs Sharine Tan loves to eat peanut soup but she has not had a bite of the traditional dessert in the past seven years, is severely allergic to peanuts so any food with peanuts as an ingredient is forbidden at home. The 32-year-old homemaker found out about Jayden's food allergy the hard way when she fed him sweet peanut soup, which he could not breathe. It was such a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

He started crying, coughing, wheezing and his lips swelled immediately. He merely took a small sip of the soup and his lips swelled immediately. He started crying, coughing and wheezing. It was a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

He merely took a small sip of the soup and his lips swelled immediately. He started crying, coughing, wheezing and his lips swelled immediately. It was such a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

Mrs Sharine Tan loves to eat peanut soup but she has not had a bite of the traditional dessert in the past seven years. Her eldest son Jayden, seven, is severely allergic to peanuts so any food with peanuts as an ingredient is forbidden at home.

Mrs Sharine Tan loves to eat peanut soup but she has not had a bite of the traditional dessert in the past seven years. Her eldest son Jayden, seven, is severely allergic to peanuts so any food with peanuts as an ingredient is forbidden at home. The 32-year-old homemaker found out about Jayden's food allergy the hard way when she fed him sweet peanut soup, which he could not breathe. It was such a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

He started crying, coughing, wheezing and his lips swelled immediately. He merely took a small sip of the soup and his lips swelled immediately. He started crying, coughing and wheezing. It was a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

Peanut allergies on the rise among kids

In Singapore — Funny, Mrs Sharine Tan loves to eat peanut soup but she has not had a bite of the traditional dessert in the past seven years, is severely allergic to peanuts so any food with peanuts as an ingredient is forbidden at home. The 32-year-old homemaker found out about Jayden's food allergy the hard way when she fed him sweet peanut soup, which he could not breathe. It was such a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

He started crying, coughing, wheezing and his lips swelled immediately. He merely took a small sip of the soup and his lips swelled immediately. He started crying, coughing and wheezing. It was a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.

He merely took a small sip of the soup and his lips swelled immediately. He started crying, coughing, wheezing and his lips swelled immediately. It was such a scary experience, Mrs Tan recalled.